

Universal approximator theorem

Neural nets can represent either function:

Maximum likelihood doesn't cause them to learn the right function. But we can fix that...